AFTERNOON BULLETIN

EXECUTIVE MANSION, July 22 5 10 p m — The president has had a comfortable afternoon without any recurrence of fever as yet and is now resting quietly His pulse has ranged from 99 to 91 and his temperature and respiration are normal

EVENING BULLETIN

EXECUTIVE MANSION, July 22—7 30 p m The progress of the president's case continues without any material change At 1 p m his pulse was 95, temperature 98 4-5 respiration 18 At 7 p m his pulse was 98, temperature 100 2, respiration 19

SOME INTERESTING PARTICULARS

WASHINGTON, July 22 — The following telegram was sent to-night by the attending surgeons to the consulting surgeons

EXECUTIVE MANSION July 22 — The president slept well last night and was easy during the day At the morning dressing of the wound, which is looking very well, it discharged several ounces of healthy pus A little solid fragment that floated out with the discharge proved to consist of a thin scale of bone about an eighth of an inch in length with a morsel of sloughing fibrous tissue and a number of adhering fibres of cotton and wool He continues to take and digest a generous but large quantity of nourishment The evening hypodermic injections of sulphate of morphia one eighth of a grain and of quinia three grains thrice daily will also be continued At 8 30 a m his pulse was 88 temperature 98 4 respiration 17— At 1 p m his pulse was 98, temperature 98 4 respiration 18 At 7 p m his pulse was 98, temperature 100 2, respiration 19

UNOFFICIAL BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, 11 30 p m July — The president's afternoon fever did not abate as early to-night as heretofore and there was a slight rise in his pulse and temperature between 8 and 10 o'clock These unfavorable symptoms however did not long continue and at this hour are subsiding The patient's skin is moist and he is sleeping quietly The slight aggravation of febrile symptoms after the date of the last official bulletin is regarded by the attending surgeons as merely a temporary fluctuation and no special attention is attached to it.

DISPATCH TO THE CABINET

The following was sent this morning to the cabinet by the president's private secretary The improvement in the president's condition continues He slept well during the night. The cool weather being greatly in his favor This morning his pulse is 88, with a normal temperature and respiration The nourishment now being administered more than supplies the waste, and while it is probable that he is steadily adding a little to his strength still it is found that his system is not yet capable of resisting unusual excitement, and the surgeons in charge insist upon as perfect repose as can be secured.

STILL IMPROVING

EXECUTIVE MANSION 6 a m, July 22 The president passed another quiet night If there is any change in his condition it may be a slight improvement, there being no indications to the contrary

CONDITION OF THE WOUND

WASHINGTON, July 22 The president continues his steady improvement The wound to-day discharged more patches of clothing, which were carried into it by the ball A piece of bone cut off from the rib and driven into the wound also came out to-day The surgeons feel specially gratified, as it shows the wound is draining out thoroughly clear to where the bullet lies, and that every thing in the nature of foreign or irritating substance is being forced out. The wound could not be healing better The patches of clothes discharged to-day were both woolen and cotton, being fibres of the shirt and coat worn by the president.

FAVORABLE PROGRESS

EXECUTIVE MANSION, July 22 — The progress of the president towards recovery continues without interruption His nourishment to-day included milk, meat juice, toast and delicate roast beef. He has rested quietly throughout the day, dozing at intervals and has had no fever At this hour his pulse is 92, temperature and respiration normal

THE PRESIDENT'S FEARS

The president fears but the surgeons do not, that the bullet may have injured his spine and may cripple him Dr Bliss says he has little doubt of the location of the bullet and there are some indications of its becoming encased The surgeons have decided to forbid cabinet officers to visit the president daily The president gains strength since the fever lessens, slowly, however, because of the waste by drainage of the wound

KIND WISHES FROM ENGLAND

WASHINGTON, July 22 — The president went to sleep early to-night. Rayburn and Bliss are very confident of his speedy recovery He hears the daily papers read and many dispatches to him of early and late date, accounts, and pictures of the shooting amuse him and evidences of public esteem deeply move him Secretary Blaine replied to Gladstone for Mrs Garfield recognizing that he rightfully spoke for the people of the British Isles whose sympathy has been so quick and sincere in his national and personal affliction Secretary Blaine says Mrs Garfield's chief pleasure in the letters is the comfort it brings her husband

Appointing a Superintendent

LEADVILLE Col July 22—President I Sq John of the Leadville and Gunnison Gold and Silver Mining company, has to-day appointed O S Crowther of Leadville, general superintendent of the above company's mines, vice Martin Sullivan, resigned The mines of this company consist of about thirty which are rated as valuable The Sequin mine is producing about ten tons of valuable ore daily Almost the entire stock of this company is held by Chicago capitalists

CHEYENNE'S TOURNAMENT

Later and More Particular Story of the Sports

DENVER, July 22 — The News to-morrow publishes the following additional report of the Cheyenne firemen's tournament. The prizes were Hook and ladder, first $200, second $50 in gold The prizes in the hose race were the same The distance run in the hook and ladder race was five hundred feet instead of six hundred feet as stated last night.

The hose companies ran four hundred feet and unreeled two hundred feet of hose

After the hook and ladder and hose tests came the straight away race, open to teams of both classes It resulted as follows

	Time
Team of Hook and Ladder Cheyenne	No time
Clarks hose Cheyenne	31
Truman hose No 2	26
Hooks No 2 Denver	24
Alerts of Cheyenne	29½

The Clarks and Truman then run off their tie for second money The Clarks time was 26¼ and the Trumans' 27¾ seconds The first prize of this race was $75 and the second $50 gold The distance run was 600 feet

The single foot race of a thousand feet all outside runners barred, first prize $50, second $25, and third $10, was won by George Bielert, of the Clark hose C J Merritt, of the Shamrock hose second and Frank P Lincoln, of the Alerts third time, 3 1/4 seconds

The volunteer free for all foot race first prize a silver cup, distance one hundred yards, was won by Carter of hooks No — Denver Ben Sargent of the same team, was second time, 10 seconds

The Denver fire department turned out this evening and matched to the union depot with a band of music and received the victorious team of hooks No 2 and escorted them through the principal streets

Governor Evans' Efforts

A Missing Miner

DENVER, July 22 — The Republican has the following A S Hitter of Andrew, Iowa, who has been in the Black Hills and Colorado for the past four years and accumulated twenty thousand dollars, and has latterly been employed as a messenger by the Adams Express company, is supposed to have been killed His wife sold the home at Andrew and arrived in Denver yesterday, and on making inquiries learned that some time since he left the employ of the express company and went to the mines, since which he has not been heard from

MURDERED IN NEW MEXICO.

An Unknown American Shot Down by Ambushed Indians

LAS VEGAS, July 22 — The Gazette has just received the following intelligence from Paso Del Norte, Mexico Word has been brought to Corralitos Ascension that the body of an unknown American was found by the occupants of the two stage coaches which left this place on Sunday evening, July 10th, loaded with miners for Rattanites The remains of the murdered man were lying by the side of the road at Puerto de Ventanas on the Guadalupe road this side of the scene of the late massacres The victim had evidently killed an antelope and while bending over his game was shot by the Indians, probably in ambush, in the cañon which runs through the Ventanas mountains No particulars have been received as yet not even the name of the murdered man

ALLEGED DISCOVERY OF COPPER.

Miners Stampeding the Laramie Country.

CHEYENNE, Wy T, July 22 — The discovery of copper and the silver bearing ore near Fort Laramie, is creating immense excitement Miners are stampeding to the new district, which is about six miles wide and swarming with prospectors who are making locations Surface assays vary from sixty to a hundred and fifty dollars Stores will be erected at once As the ore is found from the grass roots The town site of Hartville has been laid out and buildings are already going up Big emigration set in from this city, miners getting $4 a day, tenderfeet $3. There is a big demand for labor.

MURDEROUS SAVAGES

Indians From Old Mexico Make a Raid Into New Mexico.

SANTA FE, July 22 — The New Mexican today contained the following special from the scene of the Indian depredations in southern New Mexico

LAS CRUCES, July 21 — A miner and a reliable man from the Oregon mountains arrived in Las Cruces this afternoon and reported having left the camp of Lloyds and Hoyle at St Nicholas Springs, eighteen miles north of Shedd's ranch, at 6 o'clock yesterday morning Lieutenant Guilfoyle on Tuesday camped at Alamo cañon, ten miles north of Dog cañon, in the Sacramento mountains, and his chief packer, Burgess, and one man came into camp from Fort Stanton, where they had been for supplies and reported that about half way between Alamo and Stanton they had been ambuscaded by Indians who fired upon them from behind cactus plants at a distance of forty feet and killed their pack animals and the animals which they were riding and wounded Burgess, in the thigh Burgess and his companion returned the fire and killed one Indian They fought for half an hour and then made their escape Upon the receipt of this news Guilfoyle started for Dog cañon where he struck the trail and followed it to the Lagunas where he found two Americans scalped and riddled with bullets their bodies still warm Three miles further on the same in sight of the Indians and a running fight ensued for half five minutes along the southern ridge of the White Sands to Ash Canon fifteen miles south of San Andreas For half the distance the fight was carried on at a distance of not over three or four hundred yards but the Indians were mounted on fresh horses then gave out, and the Indians gained ground as they were well mounted and had plenty of horses to change Six Indian ponies were found but it is not known whether any Indians were killed Guilfoyle intended to continue the pursuit this morning He thought that the Indians would either remain and fight in the San Andreas mountains or cross the Jornada to the Caballo mountains The Indians numbered thirty squaws and forty bucks and are supposed to be from old Mexico The miners in the Organ mountains have been notified, and are on the alert Guilfoyle's force numbers about twenty five colored troops and twenty eight Apache Indian scouts under the chief of the scouts Frank Bennett Guilfoyle feels confident of catching the Indians

MORGAN'S MORGUE

A Las Vegas Officer Fires at Random and is Arrested

LAS VEGAS N M, July 22 — The Gazette of to-morrow will publish the following Some time after 10 o'clock this evening Chief of Police William Morgan went to a dance hall north of the Catholic church to quell a disturbance He found a number of men engaged in a quarrel and went among them and tried to enforce the peace He was seized by some party and his club grabbed out of his hand He got hold of his pistol and fired at his assailant, the bullet striking a young man named Fajillo in the left side coming out at the right He then fired the remaining shots out of his pistol one of the balls striking Fajillo in the left shoulder The wounds will undoubtedly prove fatal Morgan was arrested and lodged in jail

REMARKABLE EMIGRATION

Thousands of Men and Women Arriving at Castle Garden.

NEW YORK July 22 — The Herald says an unusually large crowd of emigrants swarmed Castle Garden yesterday An increasing number of applications for help are being received in the labor department for all parts of the country Servants and working men are in pressing demand, in fact it was impossible to supply the wants of the country For six months ending July 1st 17 000 men and 5,000 women were sent away from the labor bureau, Castle Garden to different parts of the United States Fruit growers' association of Sumner county, Florida, sent communication asking for able bodied working men to be forwarded them immediately to work in the orange groves and gardens of that country Similar letters were received from other parts of the south and west Fifty immigrants were sent to the Kansas City smelting works in Missouri fifty men were expected to leave to-day to work on the Texas Pacific, where they are to have $1 50 per day for two months then to receive the wages of the country Out of their first installment of wages $8 50 are to be deducted for the expense of transporting them to Texas The superintendent of the labor bureau says he has stopped answering letters asking for labor, as it is impossible to fill orders There are applications on file now for more than five hundred house servants for any amount of female factory hands to go south, where it is said that hands can make from $2 to $3 per week in factories

TRANSVAAL TRIBULATIONS

Various Motions to be Proposed in the Commons

LONDON, July 22 Sir Michael Hicks Beach will on Monday move that in opening the house the course pursued by the government in regard to the rising in Transvaal which so far as yet explained to parliament has resulted in the loss of valuable lives without vindicating the authority of the crown is fraught with danger to the future peace and safety of her majesty's dominions in South Africa, and fails to provide the fulfilment of the obligations contracted by England towards the European settlers and natives of Transvaal

Rathbone, liberal, will move an amendment as follows That the house, believing that the continuance of the war in Transvaal would not have advanced the honor or interests of England approves the steps taken by the government to effect a peaceful settlement, and feels confident that every care will taken to guard the interest of the natives and provide full liberty and equal treatment for the entire white population and to promote harmony and good will among the various races of South Africa

Wool in the East

BOSTON, July 22 — The transactions in wool for the week aggregate upwards of 2,000 000 pounds, which indicates a fair business in what is very generally admitted to be a very quiet week The receipts for a very large comprising about 100,000 pounds of domestic, making the total receipts for the past three weeks nearly 20,000 000 pounds Prices remain without change Manufacturers are holding back and disposed to bear the market but have failed to bring about any concession as most holders have considerable confidence in the future of the market.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Establishment of an Institution for the Reclaiming of Bad Boys.

Some Facts of Interest Concerning this Worthy Enterprise.

We have received from Superintendent W C Sampson of the recently established State Industrial school located at Golden, a pamphlet containing the rules and regulations of the school The law from which the school was passed by the last legislature and signed by Governor Pitkin February 12th 1881 The government of the school was placed in a board of control composed of three of Colorado's well known citizens Hon S W Fisk of Golden Col Hon J J Gardner Trinidad Col Hon A J Ameigh, Fort Collins Col

The law most liberally provides for the commitment of five classes of children between the age of seven and sixteen years

First — Such as are convicted of crime, punishable by the laws of the state

Second — Those that prove incorrigible, vicious and uncontrollable at home

Third — Such as are proved vagrant, incorrigible, or vicious, whose parents or friends are unwilling or incompetent to exercise proper care and discipline over them

Fourth — Those found habitually wandering around the streets and public places, beyond the control of parents or guardians during the school term and the hours when school is in session or who are habitual truants

Fifth Such as may be indentured to the board of control by their parents or guardians This class will be required to have their board paid by their parents or guardians, at the rate of sixty five dollars per quarter, payable quarterly in advance, and give such assurance of prompt payment as the board of control may require

The superintendent of the school in speaking of its management says The government of the school will be parental kindly, but firm Strict obedience and positive submission to the letter and spirit of every rule will be enforced All rules adopted will be for the best good of the school and to further its great object To teach and enforce correct deportment, kindness, gentleness, truth, honesty, industry, habits of neatness, cleanliness and self-control

"Those committed to the institution are in no case sent for punishment but to be placed under elevating instruction, to be removed from influences of evil, and to be led, if possible, to that path of duty and righteousness that will, with God's blessing give honor in life, and hope of everlasting joy in death

"The school will be conducted on what is known as the family system Each family will occupy separate buildings, and will be presided over by separate officers. The senior officer will be known as the superintendent of the family, and will be responsible for its discipline and interests His assistant will render every needful help Families will number about fifty members'

The institution is one which has been much needed, and last Wednesday the first pupil was sent to the school from Denver

The school is now open for public inspection and the reception of inmates The visiting days are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday between the hours of eight a m and four p m Some of the truant, incorrigible or vicious lads of Colorado Springs can now be given an opportunity to learn to be industrious and honest.

FOR THE FIREMEN.

Items Made Interesting by the Approaching Tournament

The Leadville firemen are not going to be beaten here on account of lack of practice The Herald of yesterday has the following item The Humphrey hose company have had Poplar street leveled up from Fourth to Sixth and now have a good track for their regular evening running practice, without going to the avenue They will practice every evening hereafter, rain or shine, until after the tournament'

The Leadville Herald says Colorado Springs has raised the necessary sum to secure the tournament, but it seems impossible to find out what the prizes are to be It is believed the first prize for running will be a belt, the second fifty dollars each, and the third twenty five dollars each, but this is all guess work" The prizes will be announced in good time, and will be worthy of the occasion

The track on Nevada avenue was scraped and rolled yesterday It will be among the finest in the state when completed

At the tournament to be held in this city on the ninth of next month, the fire departments from the following Colorado cities will be represented Denver, Leadville, Pueblo, Silver Cliff, Boulder, Colorado Springs, and perhaps one or two others. Cheyenne generally sends down representatives The department at Alma, which purchased the light hook and ladder truck formerly belonging to the Leadville department, may possibly be represented at the tournament.

The Leadville hose companies sent for each hose jumper hose carts last March They have not yet arrived, though they are supposed to be on the way from Chicago

For an eastern dog, the dog owned by the Hooks of Oswego, N Y, is notorious The Palladium relates the following concerning the animal "The hook and ladder company's dog Truck again distinguished himself last night When the alarm was sent in for the fire, Truck and the horses were alone in the house, but three or four members were standing at the corner of Second and Bridge streets—about 150 feet distant The gong does not sound loud enough to be heard that distance but the men heard the faithful old dog barking loudly and furiously and they knew that meant fire Running to the house and opening the door they found Truck greatly excited with his lamp in his mouth, running to and fro between the trucks the horses and the door to inform them that an alarm had come in The men understood Truck and hooked up their team and were at the corner of Light street before the city hall bell sounded Truck running as usual with his lantern in his mouth, where, on dark nights he is worth more to the hooks than the whole street lighting department of the town

It has been suggested that the ladies of our city offer a runner as a prize to be contested for at the coming state tournament The ladies should certainly show some little appreciation of the services rendered by the fire ladies, either as above suggested or by giving a banquet during the tournament

DEAF MUTE INSTITUTE.

Progress of the Additions and Improvements On the Building.

It is expected that the Deaf Mute Institute will open for the fall term as early as September 10th The new principal has been chosen in the person of Mr. R. P McGregor, of Bond Hill, Hamilton county, Ohio. Miss Fannie Howell, of Cincinnati, has been employed as assistant teacher Mr H M Harbert will be continued in his present position. We are informed that there will be plenty of work for three teachers as last year the force was greatly overworked and the assistance of the matron Mrs Kennedy, had to be employed at times in the school room

The improvements on the building are being pushed along as rapidly as possible There will be added to the present building a wing similar to the one built last year A tower will be erected over the grand entrance and a mansard roof thrown over the entire building The additions and improvements will cost about $20 000 The putting on of the mansard roof will be finished first in order that the old building may be ready for occupation by the school in September The building when completed will be a decided ornament to the city

AN INTERESTING NEWSPAPER.

Contents of the Weekly Gazette, Which Appears this Morning.

The Weekly Gazette for July 23d, appears this morning and presents an interesting table of contents

The first page is devoted to miscellany and opens with some verses entitled "Outward Bound," which are followed by an account of General Merritt's late wedding The sketch by Joel Harris, of the Atlanta Constitution, entitled "Brer Rabbit's House" will be found especially interesting The story of Belle Boyd will also attract attention

On the second page will be found the latest telegraphic dispatches from the old and new world, together with an account of how "Billy, the Kid" met his death at the hands of Sheriff Garrett

In the editorial department will be found a sketch of the late Dean Stanley, a careful analysis of the situation at Albany, under the title of "The Revolution," and editorials on the capital question, which will be read with interest as they contain some very pertinent suggestions and important figures. In addition will be found a large number of editorial and literary notes and comments —

In the local department there are a number of articles of timely interest. A description of the proposed new hotel is given, an interview with the Hon T A McMorris, of the Indian commission, who has just returned from selecting the new Ute reservation, an account of the accident at the Manitou quarries, something about the Maxwell land grant and an account of the excursion to Manitou, in which about 2,000 people participated In addition are given the markets to date, the letter list and a large number of local articles The list is far too extended to quote in full.

BILLY THE KID.

New York's Fourth Ward Claims the Honor of His Birth.

NEW YORK, July 22. The Sun says there's a general belief in the fourth ward that Billy the kid was brought up in that ward The dispatch announcing his death reported that his real name was McCarthy The Fourth ward's name was McCarthy. A Sun reporter last night talked with twenty Fourth warders, all of whom had known McCarthy. They were all of the opinion that he and Billy the Kid are identical There is one way to make sure of it said one of a group. McCarthy when 10 years old was badly burned with acid, and was treated at the Chambers street hospital, but I think he must have a scar on the upper part of one of his legs and also on his body

Mr Conkling and the country cannot take a rest.

We now have Nevada weather with all four seasons in a day.

The disposition of Mr Blaine and fire the republican heart to any extent.

Denver can't have a word north with its record in Jefferson Boulder and Weld counties.

The 44th still has distant. Their leader betrayed his party and his party abandoned him.

Senator Robertson can now be [illegible] change his duties as collector of the port of New York.

Both Lapham and Miller live in districts strongly republican and there is no danger of losing the districts.

Yesterday was an off day and Governor Evans only entered one suit for $100,000 damages against the Denver Tribune Publishing company. This makes only four suits against the Tribune amounting $400,000.

When Denver was claiming the vote of Jefferson among other northern counties we remarked that Jefferson had no particular reason for being grateful to the north. This is shown in the following paragraph from the Golden Transcript

The Arapaho counties [illegible] will lose hundreds of voters by Denver for the permanent capital. The people of the outside counties can stand a big slap [illegible] but they don't like to have their feelings [illegible]

Denver is beginning to work up on the capital question and is [illegible] earnestly trying to argue the citizens of the Platte valley of casting their votes in that direction. Denver has always shown herself such a fast friend of the outlying settlements that it would seem to [illegible] for any of them to [illegible]

[illegible] counties have good reason to be grateful even so far back as 66, when they treated us so liberally in removing the capital from here. And the latter when we were struggling in infancy what a God like spirit they manifested towards us and how much help they volunteered us. And even today, it shows such a Christian spirit for her leading citizens to sit and talk so lovingly to any party who may have a notion of building us a hotel or establishing himself in business here. Oh it would be passing strange if Golden did not vote solid for Denver as the capital.

THE END

The contest at Albany is over. Its last phases are still in mind. The beginning of the end was on the eight of July, just two weeks ago yesterday. At a republican caucus Messrs Lapham and Miller were nominated. Since then it has been only a question of time which their election should take place. Miller was elected several days ago and Mr Lapham yesterday. The caucus which nominated them proposed to nominate an administration and a stalwart man. Miller was the administration candidate, and Lapham the stalwart. The caucus which was held yesterday was simply for the purpose of letting the stalwarts down easily.

The result will be received with general satisfaction. It would have been still more satisfactory had men of greater ability like Evarts, Rogers, Wheeler or Depew been chosen. But Mr Conkling and his clan have sustained an overwhelming defeat, and this is victory enough. New York republicans will now be in harmony with the administration. The party will no longer be one man and its conventions be his machine for strengthening himself.

The fall of Mr Conkling is almost appalling. Fourteen years ago he was elected to the senate and took his seat in that body. In five years he had achieved a leading position in that body because of his influence at the White House. The Greeley campaign drew Fenton out of the party and left Conkling in entire control of the republican organization. His hold on the organization grew stronger and stronger until he was supposed to be irresistible. He frequently had strong opposition but never failed to conquer, and conquer completely. His friends never doubted in the early part of the contest his ability to be selected so great was their faith in his good fortune. Before this the moon had always been in the right quarter. Few men have had a more magnificent opportunity than Conkling and few have made a poorer use of them. If he had used the power he had wisely, he never would have come to [illegible]

[illegible] Hotel [illegible] will be a [illegible] for a time but the people [illegible] will be [illegible] defeat will be overwhelming. A [illegible] were styled a triumvirate. They were almost strong enough to dictate to the republican party [illegible] exercised their power by attempting to force a president candidate on the country. Their power in its effects [illegible] greater than Parnell [illegible] Conkling still seemed invincible, and it was feared he was strong enough to defeat Robertson. But his opposition to Garfield was carried too far and he has had the humiliation for weeks of being able to control less than a third of the republican [illegible] in the state. It is well for the country [illegible] Conkling's [illegible] leaders. He had lost his [illegible] He simply defied control. He was [illegible] by patriotism in place. But his selfish love of power [illegible] him [illegible] if he was [illegible] to himself without regard to his [illegible] in the party or the service. Should he remain entirely out during the discussion of measures of great public importance that the silver bill he would speak for hours in every one session which is a question of patriotism involved. His fall will excite little sympathy or pity.

THE SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATE

We repeat the following facts given a few days ago regarding Edward G. Lapham who was elected to the United States senate from New York yesterday to succeed Roscoe Conkling. He is the son of the late Judge John Lapham and was born in Farmington N. Y. October 18 1814. He was brought up on a farm and during the winter months attended the public school. He took part some time at the Canandaigua academy where he was a classmate of Stephen A. Douglas and also studied civil engineering. After spending some time in visiting upon the line of the Michigan Southern railroad Mr Lapham studied law, and in 1844 he was admitted to the bar. He settled at Canandaigua, where he has since practiced law. Soon after his admission to the bar Mr Lapham formed a partnership with Judge James C. Smith which continued until the latter was raised to the bench. Mr Lapham was a member of the Constitutional convention of 1846 and voted for the adoption of the constitution. In 1854 he was elected a republican to the XXIV th congress and he has since been elected from the same district the XXVIII th by a majority, the XXIX th, XXX th and XXXI st congresses. Mr Lapham voted with the democrats in 1848 but he supported the Whig ticket in that year and was a delegate to the Buffalo convention.

Mr Lapham has always been known as a Conkling man, and was nominated for that reason, as Mr Conkling could have no good reason for opposing him. In the caucus he received the support of the strong anti-Conkling element. As Mr Conkling has bitterly opposed him and his election was brought about by anti-Conkling influences Mr Lapham is not likely to show much affection under the circumstances for his old friend, and may be relied upon to support the administration.

HOW THE NOMINATIONS WERE MADE

The New York Times of July 9th gave the following account of the nomination of Lapham and Miller, which will be found of interest this morning

The roll was called and the voting began. Senator Malden spoke regretfully of Mr Depew's withdrawal and so did Senator Mills who also seized the opportunity to press the name of Hon Warner Miller, of Herkimer, upon the caucus as a candidate. While the roll was being called Mr F. A. Carpenter and Mr Brehm, both Conkling men occupied seats at the back of the house but inside the bar and within the caucus. Some one who saw Mr Carpenter requested in a loud voice that his name be called. Mr Low called Mr Carpenter's name and in a very loud voice he called out "Roscoe Conkling." There was a storm of hisses and shouts of "Oh, no," which Mr Alvord did not regard merely directing the secretary that Mr Carpenter's vote should be "so recorded." "Of course he will be bound by the decision of the caucus" called out Senator Pitts and Senator Malden followed with a similar suggestion. Mr Brehm was also invited to vote but he very politely declined to do so. While there had been no prearrangement the vote for Warner Miller ran ahead from the start, very much to the disappointment of ex Senator Dickerson, Hon N. M. Curtis and other faithful friends of William A. Wheeler. Mr Curtis, of Co 1 [illegible] came in while the voting was going on. He had not signed the caucus call but came in at the eleventh hour, having been frightened off with the idea that it was a Depew trap. The first ballot resulted as follows

Whole number of votes—senate 15, a majority 72—47

Warner Miller	27	W M Evarts	3
W A Wheeler	2	Richard Crowley	1
Sherman S Rogers	1	Roscoe Conkling	1
Noah Davis	1	H E Tremain	1
A B Cornell	2

In the second vote Mr Skinner spoke some sentences of praise for Mr Depew, and paid a tribute of friendship and admiration to Mr Miller, for whom he was voting. Without much talk and evidently with a determination to make the work short and show their opponents that they were not demoralized, or disposed to quarrel, the members concentrated on their man [illegible] vote on the second ballot being as follows

Whole number of votes, 66.

Warner Miller	48	Sherman S Rogers	10
W A Wheeler	2

The vote on the third call showed no material change. On the fourth ballot several of the Wheeler men went over to Miller whose vote was increased to 52. The tendency was plainly toward Miller, and when Senator Davenport, the head of the Rogers line, declared that for the sake of harmony he would change to Miller, all the Rogers men followed him and Miller's vote soon ran far beyond a majority. Mr Chamberlain, of St Lawrence, tried in vain to stop the stampede by a speech for Mr Wheeler—it was of no use. As the Rogers men flocked over the Wheeler men dropped off, Senator Loomis, Mr Cowles, Mr Robinson, Mr Seely, and Mr. Sheldon, hopping up all at the same time to change. When Mr. Goodman [illegible]

ZAMLOCH, THE MAGICIAN.

His Appearance at Court House Hall Next Week.

Zamloch, the celebrated magician, will commence a series of entertainments at Court House Hall, on Monday evening and lasting during the entire week, with a matinee on Saturday afternoon. The Denver News makes the following favorable mention of Zamloch, who recently opened in Denver:

In this age of telephones, flying machines, gas, railroads and electric lights, it is time to begin to be astonished at anything. If any be caught to make a parade of one's feelings, however acute they may be. Impenetrability of countenance may be the sine qua non of your truly hard man of the world, and it may seem right to regard every thing, no matter how wonderful, with "we la bagatelle." In spite of all these rules of good society, it is pleasing to watch the countenances of the many visitors to Zamloch's series at the Sixteenth street theatre. Those who know it all, those who "have seen everything, heard everything, tried everything," done everything, know everything, actually rise from their seats in wonder, and at the close of the magician's feats involuntarily exclaim "Well!" "I declare!" "Wha' wa' ?" and other words equally expressive and are content to be knowledge, although they have been there and have tried it, done and know every thing—there are still a few things left they cannot account for and among that few are the wondrous miracles of the famous Zamloch.

HARK FROM THE TOOMBS.

Some Statistics of Leadville's Death Rate

From the Leadville Chronicle.

The good old times when the breakfast meant invariably coal and a map to number of with the past, and that's why the undertaker mourns. In June, 1879, there were 180 deaths in the city. In June, 1880, there were 120, and in the month just passed only thirty individuals shuffled off. This is a decrease of from six and a fifth times just to our days in the present, figures sufficiently startling to attract attention. Several physicians were talked to concerning this wonderful falling off, and their views were practically the same. One practitioner voiced the expression of all when he said:

"The falling off can be attributed to several causes. First—There are not as many violent deaths here at present as there were formerly, that is the decrease in our law and order. Second—People have houses to live in and fewer of them sleep out of doors. Third—The sanitary condition of the streets and alleys is good. Fourth—And this one by the way, is one of the most important. When Leadville was in its first boom—a drunken, dissipated and reckless class flowed into it.

They had no more care for health than they did for law, and before becoming acclimated indulged in dissipation that would kill anywhere. The result was they died like sheep. They wandered out of the dance halls and went to sleep in the snow. If they were not dead next morning they were dying and so things went. There is an end to all things, and by and by these people began to die out and today there is not one left where there were twenty before. They are not dying now for there is no more to die or hardly any more. Their place has been taken by sober, steady, civilized men, who enjoy better health by far here than they would in a lower altitude.

MINING STOCKS

Great Activity in Central Arizona and a Sudden Drop.

New York, July 22.—The mining associated press reports as follows concerning the mining stock market of the past 7 days. Business at the board shows an improvement over that of last week both in the number of transactions and in the prices. Speculators for an advance in State line stocks have been assisted by the report that the Pipe Line is to be repaired and thoroughly tested before purchasing new pipe. There is also reported to be a large short interest in these stocks. The main features of mining stock speculations have been an active trading in Central Arizona. At the stock exchange the sales of this stock yesterday alone amounted to over 60,000 shares at from 2¾ to 2¼. Two weeks ago the price was 6¾. The decline is attributed to the manipulation of some of the officers of the company. During the week Eureka Consolidated declared a dividend of 50 cents per share, and the Evening Star one of five per cent. The bullion receipts at New York for the week were $978 859. The total sales of mining stock at the two boards were over 800,000 shares.

MORMON PROSELYTES

Labors of the "Apostles" to Convert Pennsylvanians.

The Times' Hyde Park, Pennsylvania, special says not content with the wholesale importation of Scandinavian proselytes, the Mormons are working vigorously among the miners of the anthracite region for converts to the alleged religion of Joseph Smith. Their efforts are principally directed to the proselyting of the Welch people. Their progress, however, is exceedingly slow of late, although about a decade ago they managed to gather up about 200 converts to Mormondom in this valley. The intelligent missionaries are now in this place and we have among us a branch church of which Elder Howell is the head. This section is to some extent considered saved in Utah, as some of the "apostles" labored years ago in Susquehanna county only a few miles distant where Joseph Smith flourished for a long time and where Orson Pratt figured in 1831.

Terrible Storms.

Chicago, July 22.—Several cases are reported this morning of lightning striking in the city. No great damage.

Reports come in from all over the northwest, showing that yesterday was intensely hot in most places and that the storm when it came was the most severe ever experienced, being a continual display of lightning, thunder and heavy rain. Many cases of strokes of lightning are mentioned, some of them disastrous. Two telegraph operators died at their keys.

Two Great Failures.

London, July 22.—Dimitt, Potter & Son, merchants, of Liverpool, in the British trade suspended today. Liabilities estimated at £150,000.

The suspension is also announced of Julius Mosenthal & Co., merchants, of London and Paris. Liabilities unknown.

Accident on the Rail.

Chicago, July 22.—A freight train on the Milwaukee division of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad ran into a washout this morning, ditching the engine and seven cars, and killing the brakeman, Ed. Hughes. The wreck delays traffic greatly.

Ranging Parricides.

St. Louis, July 22.—The Republican's Maryville, Missouri, special says: Albert and Charles Talbot, convicted of murdering their father, Dr. Perry M. Talbot, on the 18th of September last, and respited once, were hanged this afternoon in the presence of 8,000 to 10,000 people. Up to a late hour last night they expected gubernatorial interference but at midnight they went to bed after a lengthy interview with their mother and sisters and Mr. Lewis, to whom Albert was betrothed. Miss Talbot was very bitter against the governor for not commuting the sentence of her boys. The prisoners received the last sacrament from the Catholic church. This morning there was an exceedingly affecting scene in the jail between the prisoners and their relatives.

Sprague's Affairs.

Providence, R. I., July 22.—Sprague's affairs are further complicated by the attachment of the real estate of the Cinderick company by Wm. King & Sons, cotton dealers, claiming half a million.

Failed on Account of Wheat.

Chicago, July 22.—A. M. Baxter, a grain and provision dealer here and in New York, failed this morning, having been caught on the wrong side of a swiftly advancing wheat market. Mr. Baxter himself is at Long Branch. Francis J. Kennett also failed. Particulars not yet in.

Failed by Fire.

Cincinnati, July 22.—Hill & Son, paper manufacturers at Middletown, have made an assignment to James L. Campbell. Liabilities $125,000, assets nearly the same. This firm suffered loss by fire a few weeks ago.

Paper Mills Burned.

Lockhaven, Pa., July 22.—The Pennsylvania Pulp and Paper company's mills burned to-day. Loss, $150,000, insured for $60,000. Armstrong & Dixon, of Philadelphia, are the owners.

Destroyed by Fire.

San Francisco, July 22.—A dispatch from Walla Walla, Washington territory, says the town of Hunford was nearly burned down to-day. Several of the most valuable blocks in town were destroyed. The loss is not definitely known, but is large.

Foreign Crops.

London, July 22.—The Standard's Madrid dispatch says that the harvest is rapidly advancing with fair prospects in wheat, oats, barley and other cereals. Every class of agricultural produce promises a crop a little below the average of ordinary years.

After providing for the high protective tariff and monopoly market in the West Indies Spain will have but little left for export.

Cholera Discovered.

Des Moines, July 23.—A case of pronounced Asiatic cholera was discovered in East Des Moines to-day. It will probably be fatal.
